When the issues on haffles the onwas provoked in the last two years or more are examined, it will be found that the new president will have a difficult task convincing those independent voters who disapproved of Kennedy policies that he shares their concern, while at the same time he will have to prove tothe Kennedy followers that he is holding the line that the prepresident who dies in office are ceding president championed. Time Short

The weakness is the obligation written in the constitution requiring that presidential and congressional elections be held at fixed times.

The truth is that the period before the presidential election in 1964 is too short for both sides. The men who made your car know the value of keeping the finish in top condition by frequent washing. Well-kept cars indicate pride and insure top trade-in dollars when you get a new car. For the best results, rely on an automatic car wash.

- General Motors experts say: "To preserve the original beauty of the finish, keep it as c'ean as pessib'e. It's a good idea to wash your caronce a week, rain or shine. Calcium ch'oride and other salts, chemicals, tar, tree sap and insect excretions can permanently damage the finish of your car if they are not removed frequently." Sometimes these factors cause cleaning problems that require special service. Most automatic car washes are easypped to handle these special needs. Consult with the manager. This moist spice cake filled with raisins and nats has a surprise ingredient ... tomato juice. The juice adds a bit of fresh tartness that balances the richness of the cake. The recipe for this one starts with a mix, then extra ingredients are added.

Cranberry and orange juices combine with grapes, celery and pecans to make this golden red gelatin mold a perfect salad to go with a holiday turkey or roast. By substituting whipped cream for salad dressing, it becomes a refreshing dessert with a light touch.

Getting a holiday meal is something like opening a Broadway play . . . there's a lot of behind-the-scenes work long before the curtain rises. That's why a hostess is smart when she has a collection of reliable "make-ahead" recipes on hand . . . and even smarter when she uses them. These are those special holiday or party recipes that can be prepared before any great day arrives. They allow maximum time with family and friends because the foods are all ready to serve except for a few touches here and there . . . ready and waiting in refrigerator or

These standbys don't have to be either dowdy nor ordinary . . . they can fit into the traditional category . . . maybe updated in preparation but just as traditional as the pie or cake that grandmother used to make for the same family or company meal. They can be dramatic and beautiful . . . fancy looking and tasting . . . specially chosen for the great day.

They are a great comfort to the homemaker who likes to have her holiday meals a beautiful perfection. The table is set . . . the turkey or other meat or bird is brown and fragrant . . . the guests are on their way. And the lady of the house is ready . . . about to stage her greatest show on earth . . . a festive Christmas dinner.

Nothing builds confidence like success. So let your children have plenty of opportunity to do things they can do well. Praise them for their successes. Don't dwell on their mistakes or failures.

Of course, if you're basically frightened about many imagined dangers, it will be difficult for you to keep from constantly warning your children to be careful. So you should strive to eliminate your own feelings of unnecessary fear.

You shouldn't find this as difficult as you may first believe. For a start, why don't you concentrate on your feelings about your parents' overprotective treatments? That probably caused lots of resentment that you didn't show. But if you keep in mind that you are now an adult with plenty of adult control, you should be able to acknowledge to yourself how you felt about the fright and dependency your parents bred BY LAURA WHEELER was and still is plenty of knitting worsted - wonderful for home. love for them - you don't TV, reading, car trips any longer need to be afraid . NEW CHEVELLE! BY CHEVROLET

Now-Chevy spirit in a new kind of car!

We built this one to do a lot more than just stand around looking beautiful. Held its weight down in the 3,000-pound range. Then built four lusty engines for it—two sixes and two V8's—with output all the way up to 220 horses*! And if that combination of modest weight and potent power gives you the idea that this is one frisky car indeed, you've got the right idea. You've also got a roomy car with a generous amount of space for legs, hips, shoulders, hats and luggage. Yet its 115-inch wheelbase keeps it highly maneuverable in traffic and very easy to park. With its Full Coil suspension, it's got a ride that reminds you of the Jet-smooth kind the way it muffles noise and cushions bumps.

Sound good so far? There's more. Like the fact that Chevelle comes in three series with eleven models-convertibles, sport coupes, sedans, wagons, even Super Sport models with front bucket seats. Like the fact that (and see if this doesn't strike you as one of the nicest surprises of all) the one's suave good looks, too. Just listen to the solid thunk of a door closing or

The Passport Question

The United States Supreme Court has agreed to consider the constitutionality of a part of the Internal Security Act which has not previously been reviewed. But it is part of a policy that is confusing and sometimes conflicting.

Two well-known Communists, Elizabeth Gurley Flynn and Dr. Herbert Aptheker, have protested that restricting American Communists to travel only in this hemisphere is unconstitutional. A District Court ruled against them, saying that the restriction was reasonable because of "the threat posed by the world Communist movement."

The passports of the two were revoked two years ago by the State Department after the Supreme Court upheld the constitutionality of another part of the Internal Security Act. This requires members of the Communist Party to register. No member has complied with the requirement but the passport restriction and other regulations apply to those who are supposed to register even if they have not.

The Communist argument is that such restriction on travel is an unconstitutional restraint on liberty. Part of the backing for this is that Communist Party members have not been duly tried and the restriction therefore did not come through due process. They say they have been, in effect, declared second class citizens without a court conviction.

The whole passport problem needs considerable review. The authority of the State Department, whether or not there should be a judicial action, and whether Communist Party membership itself is deemed evidence enough for restrictions beyond actual registration, these are all questions not clearly defined or deter-

Investigating the Assassination

The men on the President's special committee to investigate the assassination of President Kennedy have an extremely serious responsibility of which surely they are all aware. The facts concerning the crime and its aftermath must be carefully dredged up and told to the American people. But there seems to be a double standard in much of the news and interpretive stories following the tragedy that the committee must also be concerned

Many of us may have assumed at the news of the murder that it was the work of a right wing fanatic. Dallas was known to be conservative. There had been other incidents there. Much of the south had been involved in various degrees of violence in opposition to integration, the United Nations or coexistence.

But once the accused killer was found out to be a Marxist, the emphasis in many quarters changed from his political ideas to his childhood. It may be true that his apparently psychotic background was the major cause of the crime.

But would there be so many excuses offered had the accused killer been a member of the John Birch Society? The accused assassin of Medgar Evers in Mississippi has just about as mixed up a background and signs of emotional disturbance over a peried of years. But his right wing connections and his southern residence have been emphasized instead. The so-called liberal press in some cases seems almost frantic to determine that Oswald was not part of a Communist conspiracy.

Of course any pressures toward violent solutions to problems are likely to influence events even for different reasons. Americans who have encouraged such violent solutions must now stop and think and reconsider. After all there have been killings charged to the right wing in the

But the President's committee should not simply ignore the possibility that Oswald may have been hired. And it would have been better if Chief Justice Earl Warren had not been appointed to head the committee. We do not subscribe to the "impeach Earl Warren" nonsense. But since he is a controversial figure and, more important, since he is a member of the United States Supreme Court which might conceivably have to review some aspects of this case, he should not have been appointed or should not have accepted.

The United States Government cannot pander to the hysterias of isolated groups who can twist almost anything to fit their particular pattern of life. But the last few weeks have been a time of crisis for the American people and their government. We need assurance that the investigation will be objective with no effort to cloak over suspicious facts because of the might of the Soviet Union or the political ramifications of Castro.

New Reason for Probing Space and Space Administration have been concerned about criticism of the moon shot plans and other proposed projects for the exploration of space. The money may not be forthcoming. Quoted from the Appleton for rejoicing. Crescent for Dec. 12, 1863.

The Last campaign in Virginia, like all preceding campaigns in Virginia, has come to an untimely end.

The Army of the Potomac is back again on the Rappa-hannock. The general commanding, who set out to make a "real advance" on Richmond: who valorously out loose from his base and severed the leading strings which bound him to Granny Stanton's apron strings; who, with visor closed, and lance at rest, performed the Caesarian operation of dashing recklessly across the rolling flood of the "Rapid Ann": who pursued the fugacious enemy through Culpepper, and "chased" his flying coherts o'er the hills of Orange: who with banners flying and bayonets gleaming and bugles clanging defiance to the foe, marched proudly up the banks of the Mine run, and suddenly discovered the enemy posted in line of battle on the opposite side - the General commanding we say

like the King of France

Stupendous achieve ment! The Army of the Potomac is back on the Rappahannock save those who were maimed and wounded - save those who are dead. The "wounded are well cared for" is the report: the dead are at rest.

The Army of the Potomac is back again on the Rappahannock. Meade has marched on, received his modicum of praise, and marched oif.

It is now Lee's turn to advance. Let the prompters give the cue. Let the solemn farce proceed, while the fools sit in Washington and laugh on. What matters it that a few more lives were sacrificed a few more souls went to eternity - a few more widows to mourn, a few more orphans to weel - that is all.

Maybe you read about the cent of fraud loss is covered by three boys who were fishing insurance, so 90 per cent of the their feet. When they tried to board lights. buy fishing equipment at a sporting goods store, the police arrested them All were accused DEAR CY:

DEAR LEN: Although Cesare Lombroso, an Italian, began lie detection research in 1895, progress has been slow. John E. Reid and Associates, an American firm, has done much to innovate and focus the national gaze on effective use of the polygraph (lie detector). Carl Klump, chief examiner for the organization. says this about lie detection as a career 80 per cent of the people who come here are accused or suspected of something they did not do. It gives me immense pleasure to help them prove they are innocent." He further comments. "Polygraph work takes a peculiar individual I never saw anyone who got into it to make money, but those who want a (polygraph) 100 fight for a position. At the moment, the American Academy of Polygraph Examiners (600 S Michigan, Chicago) is formulating career qualifications Most members agree a degree from an accredited college is step No 1 'Type of degree is unimportant, Next comes polygraph school For more information. write National Board of Polygraph Examiners +5555 Howard. Five-Year-Old Bradley McDonald, a victim of leukemia, welcomes his step-father Gordon James McDonald home from prison in Vancouver Wednesday. McDonald, who admitted theft of $680 to pay for toys, clothing and medical care for the boy, had a six-month prison term cut off Tuesday when an appeal court said mercy was warranted. The boy is not expected to live for more than a year. (AP Wirephoto)

George Kenote, an Indian official of the corporation, asked for a more generous amount Legislators explained that they can review the situation again when they return to session next April, if the $1,000,000 fund proves insufficient.

John Bowers, a former assistant attorney general who drafted the bill, carefully explained that the welfare department will pay out amounts on the bonds on a relief basis—and not in lump sums.

He explained also that under existing law the state investment commission can buy the Indian bonds, if it chooses to do so, and if subsequent corporate experience shows that they are good investments.

Trinke presented an optimistic picture of the corporation'e experience in managing the rich timber-lands and the community saw-mill, but explained that it has had heavy capital expendi-: tures requirements for new machinery and other equipment.

"The corporation is doing fine," he said. reporting that it has increased its sales by 38 per cent since it took over the management of the lumber mill from the federal government which used to operate it for the tribe. He hinted that federal management practices were not always efficient.

"We're having some difficulties now because some of the lumber out-put is second grade, resulting from the fact that the trees should have been cut 25; years ago," he said in a report to the senate which met as a committee of the whole, an unusual device, to deliberate on the Menominee problem. Trinke was a member of the senate when the Indian corporation was set up three years ago.

Tomahawk voters approved a school bond issue in a referendum Tuesday, but residents of the Oconto Falls school district, turned down a similar proposal. The vote at Tomahawk was addition to the high school. The addition will include new semor, high school class rooms, a vocational high school and a new junior high school.

At stake in the Oconio Falls district was a $1.5 million bond issue to finance a new high school, a state graded school and an addition to the Little Suamico. The vote was 534 for.,
